A SCREENING OF PIONEERS IN SKIRTS CAN PROVIDE PERSPECTIVES AND EXPERIENCES OUTSIDE OF A CHILD'S CURRENT WORLD VIEW

WATCH TRAILER ▶

Pioneers in Skirts is a multi-award-winning documentary film about the issues that negatively affect a young woman's pioneering ambition, and what we ALL can do to encourage and sustain that ambition.

Book a screening

A social impact film can be a fun and rewarding non-formal education opportunity for ALL students to explore the culture around them and think about new ideas.

The first step is to complete the online form: pioneersinskirts.com/host-a-screening-application

Watch the film

Students have the opportunity to see first-hand what happens when people are forced to deal with unfair perceptions and stereotypes, and see how others have overcome these unexpected obstacles that got in their way.

Host a meaningful conversation

When students experience different viewpoints and can identify with characters in the film, they begin to foster greater empathy, understanding of others, and self-awareness.

"I must take a stand"

I enjoyed the documentary a lot. It helped me realize that if I want to see change in the environment around me, then I must take a stand and be confident in what I want.

STUDENT REACTION TO THE FILM

"It's not a movie just for girls"

Pioneers in Skirts sounds like a movie for girls. It's not. It's a movie about the human existence and how we treat and respect each other in this world.
